SURRENDER OF TIENTSIN IS ANTICIPATED

Exact Situation in North China City Confusing By Capitulation Looked For Soon

REDS REJECT TERMS

Nanking, Jan. 12.—(P)—Radio reports from Tientsin tonight said the Tientsin National garrison had rejected a three point proposal for the surrender of that North China city to the Communists. The reports said the National force of 50,000 troops had agreed to give up the city of 3,000,000 if they were permitted to be evacuated "with light arms" through the port of Tangku, 27 miles from Tientsin.

Some 18 ships were reported waiting off Tangku anticipating the removal of National troops if the Reds accept the proposal. The radio added that the Communists originally offered to accept the surrender on these terms: That Nationals lay down their arms within the city; all military supplies and equipment be protected for handing over to the Communists; and the lives of all National soldiers who obey these terms will be protected.

The exact situation in Tientsin was still confused here but it appeared the eventual surrender was being arranged under the pressure of the people's demands. The peace move by the people themselves at Tientsin may set the pattern for settlement of China's civil war on a national basis.

It is obvious to observers here that the government is not making any progress toward a negotiated end of hostilities. It is equally apparent that the four big powers—reportedly asked last Saturday by Foreign Minister Wu Te-Chen to help bring about a meeting between the Nationalists and Communists—will shy away from participation in a squabble which has brought only extreme unhappiness to outsiders who are interested in the city.

On the basis of those facts it is certain that it will take some new force to halt the fighting before it engulfs Nanking as it has other cities further north. During the past month possible end of the war with the Reds has depended principally on the decision of Chiang Kai-shek. Today a new factor has entered the situation—the question of the continued loyalty of his subordinates, especially his military commanders who control troops in the field.

Should these subordinates decide the time has come to act for themselves it is possible they are ready to do so with or without Chiang's approval.

If the Tientsin experiment ends successfully, it is possible other regions may seek a similar solution. (Shanghai reported that pressure for peace was mounting in China but that the pressure was on President Chiang Kai-shek and not his Red enemies.)

ALLEGHENY OFFICIAL AND WIFE INJURED

McKeesport, Jan. 12.—(P)—John G. Rainey, Allegheny county registrar, and his wife Rose suffered serious injuries today in a collision between their car and a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train. Both were reported in a critical condition in McKeesport hospital. City police said Rainey was traveling about five miles an hour when Rainey's auto apparently skidded into the side of the string of cars.

Rainey, who also is county liaison officer for the Veterans Administration, lives in Homewood.

Plan Rites Friday For Local Aviator Killed In The War

Word has been received from the Columbus, O., Warrenton depot that the remains of Lt. (jg) John Lewis Kiernan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Kiernan, 1501 Pennsylvania avenue, east, will arrive in Warren on Friday morning for reinterment. Removal will be made to the Templeton Funeral Home, then to the family home, where friends will be received to pay their respects after 2 p. m. Friday. A prayer service in his memory will be held from the home at nine o'clock Friday morning, conducted by Father M. E. Dailley, pastor of Holy Redeemer church, and followed by interment in the family plot in St. Bridget's cemetery at Meadville.

Lt. Kiernan, known to his many friends as Jack, was born in Cleveland, O., on July 5, 1921, and came to Warren with his parents at the age of one and one-half years. He attended Warren public schools, graduating from Warren High School with the Class of 1939.

He was a member of Holy Redeemer church. He was very interested in Boy Scout work, having been a charter member of Troop 11 and having attained the rank of Eagle Scout.

Ice and Snow Sweep Texas Panhandle

White-faced short-horns on the plains skirting Amarillo, Tex., back into the wind as they stand in a sea of frozen grass. The latest blizzard to sweep through the Texas Panhandle left much ice and cold and some snow, but little damage has been reported.

Postal Inspector Is Slain In Oklahoma City Post Office

Oklahoma City, Jan. 12.—(P)—Postal Inspector E. M. Harkins, was shot to death in the lobby of the main post office today and police arrested a 65-year old man.

The man was booked at police headquarters as Joseph Donnelly on charges of murder and investigation. A federal charge was being prepared.

Police quoted Donnelly as saying: "He accused me and slandered me and humiliated me. I had to take the law into my own hands."

Police said they found in Donnelly's possession a 10-inch knife and a pistol. A pistol bullet killed Harkins as he leaned over to take mail from his box. He was shot in the head.

Police said Donnelly told them he brought the knife along "just in case. Sometimes these guns don't work, you know. If it didn't I was at least going to cut off his arm."

In Donnelly's pockets were 10 letters addressed to the president, to newspapers, the FBI, the inspector of mails and a magazine. Donnelly told police the letters explained his case against the U. S. Postal Authorities. The FBI did not immediately release the letters for publication.

This was the second slaying in Oklahoma City in two days. A prominent attorney, Earl Pruet, was slain in his law office late yesterday.

Four Radio Networks Partially Knocked Out

Chicago, Jan. 12.—(P)—A power failure on a transcontinental cable last night partially knocked out broadcasts of four radio networks for up to one half hour.

Affected were broadcasts by NBC, CBS, MBS and ABC and such programs as the Bob Hope show, "Mr. and Mrs. North," Gabriel Heatter and the "Town Meeting of the Air."

A spokesman for the American Telephone and Telegraph Company said in New York that the interruptions resulted from a power failure on the company's network cable at Kalamazoo, Mich. The cut-offs involved radio network stations west of Kalamazoo.

The trouble started at about 8:45 p. m. It wasn't completely cleared up until 9:15 p. m.

Former State Dep't Official Accused Spy

Washington, Jan. 12.—(P)—The Justice Department today announced the arrest in Germany of a former State Department employee accused of treasonous wartime collaboration with the Nazis.

He is Herbert John Burghman, 52, a native of Hokah, Minn., who worked for 20 years in the U. S. embassy in Berlin as a clerk and economic attaché.

The Justice Department said that when the United States went to war with Germany in 1941, Burghman refused the opportunity to be repatriated to this country and took a job with the German short-wave radio, broadcasting in English to American Armed Forces.

Department officials said that since the war, he has shifted from one job to another in postwar Germany.

Trapped Miner Dies After His Rescue

Cairnbrook, Jan. 12.—(P)—A band of miners worked more than 15 hours in one-man relays to rescue a fellow worker trapped in a rock slide, but he died shortly afterwards today in Windber hospital.

William Wallace, 27, was crushed under a 20-ton rock slide yesterday in the Cairnbrook mine of the Loyalhanna Coal Co. He was unconscious when freed.

The rescue workers had been forced to labor one at a time because of the threat of further rock slides. As they worked, Wallace whispered to them:

"Please, please. Please, get some of this weight off me. Hurry up, fellows. I can hardly stand it."

The trapped bituminous miner was knocked under a coal car by the rock fall several hundred feet underground so that only his head and shoulders protruded. The car was partially crushed and parts of it pressed down on Wallace's body.

Periodically during the rescue efforts, Dr. Ernest Epperjesy crawled on his stomach to the trapped man to give him hypodermic injection to ease his pain.

HOSTILITY TO TAX PROGRAM BUILDING UP

Longtime Economy Advocate Predicts President Will Get Less Than Half He Asked For

SOME CUTS DEMANDED

Washington, Jan. 12.—(P)—A strong combination of Republicans and Democrats was taking shape today for a drive against the $4,000,000,000 tax boost requested by President Truman.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.), a longtime economy advocate, predicted the president will get less than half of what he asked for—if he gets any increase at all.

"With reasonable economies no tax increase at all would be necessary," he told a reporter. As a step in that direction he proposed dropping 210,000 of the 2,100,000 federal workers from the government payroll.

Senator Robertson (D-Va.) expressed similar view. "I feel the more prudent course would be to balance the budget by economy in spending rather than through an increase in taxes," he said.

And Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) told a reporter "it is going to be very, very difficult to get as much of an increase as the president requested. We simply cannot afford in these lush times to have deficit financing."

Rep. Taber (R-N.Y.), who was chairman of the house appropriations committee in the Republican 80th congress, said in a statement he was certain the president's spending estimates can be shaved "very substantially."

And Taber's senate counterpart, Senator Bridges (R-N.H.), echoed that view with a call for "sound cuts in government spending."

Summing up, a senate GOP leader who asked anonymously said he believes Republicans, who cut taxes when they controlled congress, will stand solidly against an increase until the need is proved. And he added: "Up to now we haven't been shown."

The president submitted a $41,900,000,000 federal budget estimate for the year starting July 1. Predicting a deficit of almost $1,000,000,000, Mr. Truman asked congress to cover it and help pay off the $252,000,000,000 national debt by passing the $4,000,000,000 tax boost.

Mr. Truman proposed raising the new revenue chiefly from corporations but he also suggested that congress examine the possibility of increasing taxes on middle and upper incomes.

HONOR STEPHEN FOSTER

Pittsburgh, Jan. 12.—(P)—Dr. R. Gerald McMurry will speak on "Stephen Collins Foster and Abraham Lincoln" at the 22nd Stephen Foster Memorial program tomorrow in Pitt's Foster Memorial Auditorium. McMurry, is assistant editor of "The Lincoln Herald," a quarterly magazine, and is assistant professor of history and director of the Lincolnian department at Lincoln Memorial University, Harrogate, Tenn.

CITY HALL FOR SALE

Oil City, Jan. 12.—(P)—Oil City wants to sell its city hall. Councilmen want to put up a new one. They're asking bid.

Erie Salesman Held For False Pretense

Erie, Jan. 12.—(P)—Carlos L. Fuessler, 45, just recovering from a bullet wound near the heart, yesterday was charged with obtaining money under false pretense in the sale of automobiles.

When Fuessler was found lying along a road near Ripley, N. Y., last Dec. 29, he gasped out to officers a story of how a highwayman had robbed him of $9,000 and shot him.

District Attorney Damian McLaughlin said Fuessler has since admitted this story was untrue. Instead, McLaughlin said, Fuessler shot himself in an effort to have his wife collect a $10,000 life insurance policy he had taken out less than a year ago.

McLaughlin said the charge filed against Fuessler yesterday specifies that in December, representing himself as an auto salesman, he collected $300 from five employees of the Sanitary Dairy Co. here, without delivering any cars.

The district attorney said he is investigating about 40 similar complaints from persons who said they gave Fuessler money for cars they didn't get.

Fuessler is an installing engineer working out of Cleveland.

TRAFFIC FATALITY
Connellsville, Jan. 12.—(P)—Roman Kurka, 73, was hit and killed by a delivery truck yesterday on Route 711, near Melcroft.

West Shivers Under Chilling Snows and Sleet As Balmy Breezes Caress The South

Winter continued to play favorites today. It slapped the far west, the Pacific northwest, west Texas and the Panhandle with chilling snows, sleet and cold. And it caressed the south with balmy breezes that brought flowers into bloom.

Snow—the fourth straight day of it—was predicted for onetime sunny southern California. However, the forecast was that it wouldn't be so cold in the orange and lemon-growing belt—a minimum of 26 in comparison with the frosty 19 of early Monday.

Most of the snow melted from Los Angeles' downtown area but there was eight inches of the white stuff in Orange county's Silverado Canyon.

Sheets of ice and sleet gripped much of west Texas and the Panhandle and large sections of eastern New Mexico also were coated. The ice—four inches thick—felled telephone lines and closed all roads in the Amarillo area.

Schools were shut down and bus schedules cancelled. Power and telephone lines by the hundred were downed in west Texas and two deaths attributed to the weather were reported there.

Prolonged cold brought a new problem to the Pacific northwest—a power shortage. The long freeze cut the flow of water in ice-clogged streams and rivers, reducing the water supply needed for power generators.

Floating ice clogged the Columbia river entrance to Portland, Ore., slowing upriver movement of ocean vessels.

Trucks loaded with supplies crashed through to the snowbound town of Gordon in western Nebraska but the little town still was in danger of a critical shortage of fuel oil grew worse and the only routes that oil could be brought in were blocked by huge snow drifts.

Warmer weather was in prospect for Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma where sleet and rain has hampered normal life for three days.

At Joplin, Mo., a city of 45,000 residents started a run on steaks for candles and lanterns. Joplin lost its electricity Monday night.

The Southwestern Bell Telephone Company estimated damage to its lines at more than $500,000 in the three states.

In contrast, shirt sleeves and spring clothes were in season in the south. A broad area from the Carolinas across the southeastern states to New Orleans basked in temperatures up in the high 70s and low 80s.

The famed azaleas of Mobile, Ala., came into bloom and Savannah, Ga., glowed with a new record for Jan. 11 yesterday with a reading of 83. The weatherman said more of the same was in store for most of the south.

Sen. Myers Prepares Bill To Extend Rent Control Program

Washington, Jan. 12.—(P)—Legislation to extend rent ceilings 27 months and put thousands of dwellings back under rent control will be introduced by Senator Myers (D-Pa.), probably tomorrow.

Senator Maybank (D-SC), chairman of the senate banking committee, told a reporter the measure might become the administration's rent bill. Mr. Truman has asked for tightening of controls and extension for at least two years.

The senate banking committee will hold its first meeting of the session Friday. Maybank predicted that rent legislation will get a top priority. The present law expires March 31. Myers' bill would extend control through June, 1951.

Under Myers' bill as shown to a reporter, rent control would revert pretty much to its status prior to changes authorized, over Mr. Truman's protest, by the Republican-controlled 80th congress.

New dwellings, including those rented since 1945, were decontrolled and would be placed under rent ceilings again. So would converted dwellings and permanent hotel accommodations, including apartment hotels.

A rent control official said decontrol of new construction alone would apply to thousands of dwelling units.

Transient hotel rooms and motor courts would remain decontrolled. The bill would give the housing expediter authority to control or decontrol whole additional areas. The measure also would ban any more 15 per cent increase leases.

CORNING LAYS OFF
Charlottesville, Jan. 12.—(P)—Corning Glass Co. yesterday laid off 250 workmen who had been making 12.5 inch television bulbs at its plant here. A company spokesman said demand for the bulbs had fallen off. He said the company would try to absorb the workmen in other departments.

ERIE ROBBER FOILED
Erie, Jan. 12.—(P)—Storekeeper Hezekiah Spencer of southwest Erie doesn't like robbers. Yesterday one stalked into his store, flourished a gun and said, "This is a holdup!" Spencer grabbed a hammer and started after him. The would-be robber fled.

REPORT MADE ON SITUATION IN PALESTINE

Foreign Office in London Denies Israel's Claim of Violation of U. N. Arms Embargo

POSITION IS DEFINED

BULLETIN
Washington, Jan. 12.—(P)—Undersecretary of State Lovett said today the United States had expressed concern to the British government over troop movements in the Palestine area prior to British reinforcement of the port of Aquaba.

London, Jan. 12.—(P)—Foreign secretary Ernest Bevin told a lengthy cabinet meeting today of a fast Palestine developments which the foreign office calls a grave threat to peace in the middle east.

The meeting lasted more than three hours. There was no immediate announcement of action.

The foreign office denied Israel's assertion that Britain has sent military supplies to her Arab state allies in violation of the United Nations arms embargo.

A spokesman said Israel itself broke the embargo by importing supplies from Communist Czechoslovakia "on a massive scale." He said 90 per cent of Israel's supplies came from east Europe. He said American dollars, but not U. S. government dollars, make possible the purchases.

Israel and Britain blamed each other for the crisis.

The cabinet meeting was the first called since British-Israeli tensions heightened over the destruction of five RAF planes in the Palestine-Egyptian frontier area last Friday.

Israeli forces shot down the planes, described as armed reconnaissance craft. They fell in the closing phase of a long border battle between Israel and Egypt. Armistice talks between Israel and Egypt are due to start at Rhodes this week under United Nations auspices.

Acting U. N. Mediator Ralph J. Bunche arrived at Rhodes yesterday.

A foreign office statement, issued after Israel complained about British activities to the security council at Lake Success yesterday, defined Britain's current stand on the Palestine problem:

To exercise restraint, back up the United Nations and reserve her rights as to future action. "One of the great dangers in the situation lies in the fact that the Security Council has been losing control over the events," the statement said. "It is of paramount importance that this authority should be reestablished without delay and maintained until a final settlement is reached."

Three Die in Crash Of Airlift Plane

Frankfurt, Germany, Jan. 12.—(P)—An American airlift plane returning from Berlin crashed near here today, killing all three crewmen.

The big four-engined C-54 Sky-master cut a swath 10 yards long through a forest two miles east of the Rhein-Main airport, bowing over foot-thick trees like tenpins.

Most of the fuselage remained intact but the wings and landing wheels were knocked off and the cockpit crushed. The landing gear was down, indicating the pilot was about to land.

Cause of the crash was not determined. A light snow was falling at the time but airport officials said visibility was fairly good.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Grand Champion Turkey Is In Spotlight At Farm Show

Harrisburg, Jan. 12.—(P)—The 1949 state fair show grand champion turkey is the closest thing to a barnyard peacock seen here in years.

It's a two-year-old, 39-pound tom owned by Basil Gantt, Newport, Perry county.

The gobbler's colorful fan-shaped tail and his dangling comb are like twin magnets. Strutting in a champion's gilded cage, the bird is attracting thousands of visitors at the Keystone Agrarian classic.

H. H. Kauffman, Penn State poultry expert, judged the gobbler principally for what he termed "market qualities—what the consumer would want to buy."

The champion bird has thick thighs, a boon for lovers of dark meat, and a rounded underside for those who prefer white meat from the breast.

Picked from more than 60 turkeys entered at the farm show, the gobbler also has what Kauffman describes as "good strength to live in a flock with other turkeys."

The Gantt entry was rated by Kauffman as one of the finest turkeys he has ever seen at the farm show. And that means something. Pennsylvania's $12,000,000 a year turkey industry is the largest of any state east of the Mississippi.

Meanwhile, more and more farmers and their families thronged the 14-acre farm show building, largest of its kind in the world.

Last night, more than 800 rural boys and girls enacted a giant tableau on early Pennsylvania history as part of the annual rural talent festival in the 7,600-seat main arena.

Former Co. Resident In Erie Tragedy

Mrs. Ethel Lynn, 27, mentioned in an Associated Press dispatch Tuesday as having shot and killed an infant son before taking her own life, at Erie, was born in Spring Creek and later resided at Columbus, until eight years ago, moving to North East following her marriage.

Coroner Wood, of Erie county, issued a verdict of death by murder and suicide.

Besides her husband and two children, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Edward Jukes, of Columbus; two sisters, Miss Edith Cobb and Mrs. Lucille Rodgers, both of Corry, E. D.

Double funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Thursday in the John Marks mortuary at North East, with the Rev. Ralph Metcalf, pastor of the State Lane Methodist church, officiating. Interment will follow in the West Lawn Cemetery at Columbus.

Mrs. Lynn was the former Ethel Jukes who was born at Spring Creek and later resided at Columbus until eight years ago, moving to North East following her marriage.

The double tragedy was pieced together by Coroner Wood who was summoned by the husband and father, Henry "Al" Lynn, Sr., a World War II veteran and employee of the Eureka Electrical Products Co., in North East.

State and county authorities stated Mrs. Lynn had been despondent for several weeks and about 10 days ago confided to her husband and a minister that she intended to take her life. Her actions are believed to have been prompted by the serious illness from which she never fully recovered following an operation a year ago.

Authorities said she was alone in the house Monday afternoon with the baby and another son, Harold J., four, who was in a bedroom ill with chicken pox. A third boy, Henry, Jr., six, was at school.

It is believed the woman first shot the baby with a souvenir war pistol, a German Luger, and then called the operator at the Eureka plant and hysterically summoned her husband. Before he arrived she had shot herself. Both were dead when the husband and father arrived.

KIDS HURT

Two seven year old kids were hurt by automobiles in the city Monday afternoon and yesterday afternoon. On Monday, Ralph Reynolds, 14 S. Marion street, ran into the side of a car operated by Alan Loper, Madison avenue. The lad was only slightly injured, and told Loper he was watching the traffic light at Lacy school rather than the traffic. Yesterday afternoon, Joseph Krimmel, Jr., 111 Prospect street, was struck by a vehicle operated by C. G. Dick Franklin street, near the intersection of Pennsylvania avenue, east, and Crescent street. The lad received brush burns and scratches on the leg. He will be taken to Warren General Hospital for x-rays today although it is thought that there are no broken bones.

CRASH AT CROSSING

A Meadville man was able to escape from his car which jammed on the Erie Railroad crossing one-half mile west of Bear Lake just before the machine was demolished by a speeding eastbound Erie freight train. F. R. Hotchkiss, who was on his way to Bear Lake to visit L. A. Hotchkiss, was unable to move the 1937 Ford sedan after it skidded sideways on the tracks a few minutes before the train arrived. The vehicle's wheels skidded on the rails and then became wedged between the ties, preventing the car from being moved. The diesel-drawn freight train hit the car head-on, demolishing it completely. It was later towed away to Clyde's Service Garage in Bear Lake where the loss was estimated at $450. The machine had only recently been completely repaired, including the installation of a new motor.

The flicker catches his food—mostly ants—by thrusting out his long tongue which is covered with a sticky saliva which snares them.

Plant Safety Discussed By G. E. Official

A realistic approach to the problems of safe-guarding employees of a large industrial plant was presented to the Warren Foremen's Club at their meeting in the YMCA Monday night by Harry A. Weber, safety supervisor for the General Electric plant in Erie.

Weber pointed out that a safety program in a plant is no better than the cooperation received from the foreman in breaking in a new employee. He cited many instances where an employee has been killed or maimed for life because he was operating a machine without the proper guards being in place, or because he was not wearing safety glasses.

Weber said the trend in industry is now to place the responsibility on foremen where there is a lost-time accident because the safety guards provided by the plant were not used.

He told of the GE safety program where the company makes available such things as prescription safety glasses, gloves, leather jackets and safety shoes. He also told of the company's efforts to place a guard round every moving part of a machine, its medical and dispensary departments, fire control, testing of hazardous materials, and traffic problems getting the workers to and from their jobs.

Weber said industries also must take an active interest in safety work outside the plant, because a mishap in a home or on the street usually results in lost time for the worker on a job.

Concluding his talk, he presented a movie, "The Voice of Safety," depicting the safety campaign carried out in all General Electric plants.

The guest speaker was introduced by Club President Wendell Lawson.

The program also included entertainment by six-year-old Roseanna Oberg, who sang three numbers, "Mama," "I Can't Say No," and "The Lady With the Tutti-Frutti Hat." She was presented by the Rapp Dance Studio, through arrangements with Entertainment Committee Chairman Merritt Rohlin.

A "Ladies Night" program is planned by the Foremen's Club for its February meeting.

AT FURNITURE SHOW
Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Waxman are spending the week in Chicago, attending the mid-winter furniture market showings in the interests of the local store.

MORE ROBINS
While the weather man continues to forecast approaching colder weather, additional reports are being received of robins in local gardens and feeding stations. Fred Shelton, 7 West street extension, is the latest to note two of the fat redbreasts.

APPEAL DENIED
George Miketish, 26, of Gifford, serving a life term in Western Penitentiary for the slaying of his wife, Gertrude, 23, last August, lost an appeal for freedom Tuesday when Judge Charles G. Hubbard at Smethport refused to grant a motion for a new trial.

LOSES RADIO FEE
Franklin city council indicated this week it would definitely defer, until finances and conditions warrant, the purchase of a radio for the fire chief's car. It was the feeling of councilmen that ear-to-station communication was being well handled by the present radio-equipped car of the police department and the round-the-clock functioning of the radio receiving set at the City Building.

VIEW NEW CHEVROLET
Jack Emme and Frank Abbott, of the B. & E. Chevrolet Co., of this city are in Washington, D. C., where they joined 800 Chevrolet dealers from the eastern section of the United States to view the public display for the first time of the new 1949 Chevrolet car in the capital. The Warren men boarded a chartered train in Pittsburgh and made the trip to Washington in company with a large number of Pennsylvania automobile dealers. One of the new 1949 Chevrolet cars will be brought to Warren January 22.

TRUMAN DEAL FACES LONG HAUL

It might seem that after winning the election, President Truman is capable of almost any feat—even getting his whole domestic program enacted by Congress. But the program is almost certain to be in for a hard fight. And its supporters in Congress have some hard work in store if they are to get the President substantially what he wants.

One problem for Mr. Truman and his Capitol lieutenants is to determine what and how much of those State of the Union requests can be tackled in one session. It will take a long time to consider the presidential want list and get some of the items which Congress may approve into operation.

It will also take money for the projected universal military training, St. Lawrence Seaway development, federal housing and education projects, many parts of the farm program, sundry studies, and so on. Mr. Truman has asked $4,000,000,000 increased revenue in new taxes. But that wouldn't pay for all the things he has in mind. So priority will be important.

Many things on the want list have been asked for before. These include a higher minimum wage, standby price and wage controls, the Truman civil rights program, UMT, medical insurance, the St. Lawrence project, housing and education subsidies and extension of the original reciprocal trade law. It remains to be seen how much better this Congress likes them than its predecessor did.

The Republican-Southern Democrat coalition will probably continue to function. It may well cause Mr. Truman continued trouble. The civil rights program is sure to be fought tooth, nail and filibuster—if the filibuster is still in existence.

The so-called "socialized medicine" plan is also due for some strong opposition. If uncontrolled prices continue their decline, the Democratic leadership may find it hard to sell the need for price controls, even to a Democratic Congress.

Of the new proposals, one will cause plenty of fireworks. That is the request to authorize government construction of steel mills if private industry does not expand as much as the government thinks necessary. Aside from the socialistic aspect of the request, which may even cause some of the President's adherents to hesitate, opponents will point out that steel capacity is already high and going higher.

The present capacity, 96,000,000 tons a year, is the highest in our history—including the war years. And production schedules call for a 98,000,000-ton capacity by the end of 1950. That is getting pretty close to the 100-million-ton goal that CIO President Philip Murray has mentioned.

Further, it takes steel to build mills to provide more steel. With steel already earmarked by private companies for construction purposes, the Administration could run into difficulties persuading some congressmen that the government should get that steel instead.

Naturally, Mr. Truman will find it infinitely easier and pleasanter to work with the 81st instead of the 80th Congress on domestic matters. And a number of his wishes will doubtless be granted without undue trouble. But he may have reason to reflect, from time to time, that in spite of his smashing victory he received fewer votes than the Dewey-Wallace-Thurmond opposition. He may also find that the notion of a "people's mandate" will produce some stormy contradiction on Capitol Hill.

The building program at the Warren State Hospital, along with news of plans for reconstructing Route 6, east of Clarendon and west of Warren, combine to make things look pretty rosy for the community during the coming months.

Attention, California subscribers: You will be interested to know that while headlines tell of "Record Fall of Snow In Southern California," residents of paved streets in Warren are complaining about dust blowing in off the streets.

Modern children are young people who like to run everything around the house—except errands.

What the world needs is a thermometer that can read the weatherman's forecast.

It is just possible the pruning season will start a little early this year down in Washington.

Here And There

This And That: The trolley days of Warren are recalled in an item in the Mirror of fifty years ago today which says: "At a meeting of the stockholders of the Warren Street Railway Company held Monday evening the following officers were elected: President, D. W. Beatty; treasurer, D. H. Higgins; secretary, W. W. Rankin; directors, J. D. Woodard, Dr. John Hepburn, W. R. Lavery, D. H. Higgins and W. W. Rankin." Opposition to a retail sales tax, a proposal placed under study last week by the Cattaraugus County Board of supervisors, was voted Monday night by the Board of Directors of the Olean Chamber of Commerce. . . . One hundred and fifty Corry Kiwanians, their wives, and guests, including a number from Warren, are expected to take part in the 25th anniversary of the organization January 17. A program of speeches will be followed by ceremonies honoring the two surviving charter members of the club. Jack Emo and Frank Abbott, of the B & E Chevrolet, are among 800 dealers in a special visit to Washington, D. C., to see the unveiling of the 1949 model. . . . Meadville school board is awaiting the outcome of the 1949 legislative discussions on the local taxing-power law, Act 481, before deciding whether it will levy any new local taxes. . . . H. E. Clark, chairman of the Venango County Republican committee, in a recent letter to Hon. Leon H. Gavin, district representative to Congress, has requested that action be taken on a flood control program for Oil Creek, which would benefit Oil City and surrounding area. Mr. Clark is also disaster chairman of the Oil City chapter of the American Red Cross. . . . A funny situation has developed down at Franklin where the police department, acting as policemen and also as taxpayers, are opposing a proposal by chief of the Franklin Fire Department to obtain a $500 radio communication set for his official car. The policemen say the police cruiser is equipped with a radio and it is at nearly all fires. . . . Those volunteers who give of their time and service each evening to hand out cards to friends and relatives desiring to visit patients in the wards at the Warren General Hospital, continue to do a fine job of self-sacrificing service. . . . The Titusville Hospital operated at a loss of $9,794.76 for the three months ending November 30, 1948, William J. Fleming, hospital president, has announced, following the monthly meeting of the institution's executive committee. The hospital has been running at a loss in recent months. Mr. Fleming said, but the deficit shown on the report presented the committee, is thought to be the worst in the history of the institution. The Young Furniture Store in Youngsville, at least Monday evening, was about the only retail establishment in the county still decorated with outdoor Christmas lights. . . . Henry Candy, new secretary of the Warren Chamber of Commerce has taken over his new tasks and getting acquainted, not only with the duties of the office, but with associates in the organization with whom he comes in contact. . . . Guy Johnson, former Warren resident, writes us from Hendersonville, N. C., where he is in business with W. N. Crooks. "How is the weather up there? I presume you have the usual snow and zero temp. occasionally. It makes me feel warm down here when I listen to the weather reports from KDKA every evening. However, there is a vast difference in temperature between here and Warren. I am really sold on it down here. Had five snow storms or rather just some snow on five occasions last winter. This winter we had a minor sleet storm on Christmas eve. I missed it as I was in Florida. The last three days the temp. ranged from about freezing to 65 or 70 degrees. Today we sat on the front porch. It's great—you wear a topcoat to work in the morning and then forget it for the remainder of the day." . . . Until one of them was discharged today two Warren county ex-hermits were patients in the Warren General Hospital. Bob Ritchie was recuperating from an operation when George Grosch was admitted over the weekend as a medical patient. Ritchie was roaming the corridors early this morning in happy anticipation of going home before evening.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

1929
Miss Virginia Corbett of Sixth Avenue has returned to Mt. Holyoke College, where she is a member of the senior class, after spending the holidays here. . . . Twelve young men met at the "Y" for the purpose of organizing a local chapter of the Phalanx Fraternity, an organization of the Y.M.C.A. Temporary officers for the club were: Prinus, Charles E. Smoot; Pro-prinus, James L. Folks; Tribune, T. R. Morelli; Quaester, Wilbert McElwain. . . . The annual message to Council by Burgess L. E. Chapman, contained a number of recommendations which if carried out should prove of great value to the community—more adequate flood control along the river bank for both the fourth and seventh wards; additional storm sewers in the Conewago district; additional patrolmen on the police department; a public comfort station and construction of a new municipal building. . . . W. A. "Billy" Sunday, world famed evangelist, is to give two talks at the City Mission in Erie. . . . A petition has been filed with the New York State Public Service Commission by the Jamestown Motor Bus Company, for permission to operate a bus line between Jamestown and Warren over the Warren-Jamestown road through Frewsburg.

1939
Members of the Literature Department of the Woman's Club met at their clubrooms to hear a splendid review of three books by Mrs. M. A. Carringer of Tonesta. Two selections by Miss Helen Eckardt and her sister, Miss Ruth Eckardt were played. . . . The Tabitha Sewing Circle was entertained at the home of Mrs. James Hanson, Russell street. . . . The Ladies' Aid Society is holding a social time at the home of Mrs. Ray Thompson of Russell. . . . Top honors during the first round of the Struthers-Wells bowling league went to Walt Draheim with an average of 182 for 42 games. T. Brinds was second with 179. . . . At the annual meeting of the Complanter Gun Club, Norman Kuhre was elected president; Pat Storum, vice president; Nick Reading, secretary; Rex Pratt, treasurer; Stewart Kuhre, range officer; Forrest Sigworth, skeet manager and Paul Yagge representative to the Warren County Council of Sportsmen. . . . There will be a field trial Sunday at Hoskins' Farm on the Warren-Jamestown Road, open to all hounds that can run a rabbit. . . . The ladies were guests at the annual ladies' night program held at the "Y" by the Warren Foreman's Club. During the meal, music was furnished by a trio consisting of Everett Stoke, Delbert Werle and Lloyd Van Tassel. Eight young people, under the direction of Miss Anna L. Kahl, of the high school faculty, gave a program and each lady present was given a lovely blue vase as a favor.

LANDER

Lander, Jan. 11—WSCS members held their regular meeting at the home of Miss Mae Bishop, with 24 members and two visitors present. Mrs. Ernest Stanton presided and the meeting was opened with devotions. Florence Ludwick was appointed on the kitchen committee in place of Josephine Peterson, who has moved to Erie. A motion was made to buy a propane gas stove for the community house and to pay $50 to the furnace fund. It was also voted to ask Elsie Ross, a missionary, to speak at some meeting.

A gift of $5 was received from Mrs. Roy Marsh of Russell in memory of her mother, Mrs. Whit-ting. It was voted to send a card of thanks for same. A white elephant sale was conducted in place of a program, with Mrs. Arthur Mahan as auctioneer. Dues received were $8.50, Rummage Sale, $3.40. Dinner was served by Mrs. Arthur Mahan, Mrs. Ella Hitchcock and Mrs. George Mahan.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stanton, son, Kenneth and daughter Joyce, left Friday for Gilbert, Ariz., to

Nuhfer - Adelmann Ceremony Is Read in First Baptist

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Louise Adelmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Adelmann, of Heidelberg, Germany, and Roger S. Nuhfer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nuhfer, East Fifth avenue extension, took place on Saturday, January 8, at 3 p. m. in First Baptist church.

The Rev. Milton G. Perry, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony against a simple background of lighted candles. Miss Farnet Lind was at the organ to play traditional bridal selections.

The bride was attractively gowned in white net over satin, encircled with sweetheart neckline in a fitted bodice and full skirt. Her veil of net fell to fingertip length from a crown of pearlized orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations showered with streamers.

Her only attendant was Mrs. Sherman Van Pelt, sister of the bridegroom, whose gown was of the same style, fashioned of yellow net and satin. Her short veil fell from a satin crown and she also carried pink carnations.

Eugene Fox was best man for his brother-in-law, and ushers were Ray Berdine and William Simonson, Jr.

The reception followed immediately in the church parlors, where the bride's table was beautifully centered with a wedding cake and white tapers. Presiding were Mrs. Eugene Fox and Mrs. Merle Greenawalt, with Mrs. Milton G. Perry and Mrs. Grover Lind as aides.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lee Davidson and son, Kelvin, of Diamond.

The newlyweds are at home to friends at 2 New street. The bride attended Heidelberg schools and the bridegroom, graduate of the local high school in the class of 1945, served with the army of occupation in Germany.

The bride-elect was honored with a personal shower given by Julia Berdine.

WSWS MEETING

The regular meeting of the Bethel Evangelical United Brethren WSWS will be held at the church at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, with Sarah Crosby and Charlotte Linquist as program leaders.

Warren

There is a spot along the riverside, Facing the hills and mountains high and wide. It rests where trees and many flowers grow Where people mingle and are so nice to know. There is a friendly touch which pleases me, A smile, a greeting, a welcome, true sincerity. It's not too large and indeed it's not too small, Their motto here is truly "come one, come all." There is in Warren much of culture and of creed There is in Warren much of dignity, indeed. There are in Warren ways in which you may succeed So Warren welcomes you and says "Godspeed."

Weighty Volumes Being Sent To 25,000 Methodist Ministers

CHICAGO—As the first phase of Methodism's four-year Advance for Christ and His Church opened, Rev. Dr. E. Harold Mohn (left), executive director, handed to Jesse I. Gibson of the church's service department the first of 25,000 weighty volumes to be mailed free of charge to every Methodist minister. Dr. Mohn directed that the first book be sent to Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, New York City, vice-chairman in charge of the Advance's worldwide preaching and teaching mission. In a letter addressed to all Methodist clergy, Bishop Oxnam points out that diligent study of order and God's Design," based on the Amsterdam Assembly of the World Council of Churches, will be rewarding and will furnish an intellectual and spiritual background for the preaching and teaching endeavor. The bishop admits the book is heavy reading even though it is accompanied by a helpful study guide. Dr. Mohn realizes it's a heavy book too for figures from the service department show that the 25,000 volumes when packed for shipment will weigh 34 tons and will require 1,100 mail bags and 15 trucks to carry them to the post office. SOCIETY

Audrey E. Lacy Becomes the Bride Of Michael Bleech

In a simple ceremony performed on December 30, Audrey E. Lacy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Lacy, and Michael Bleech, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bleech, were united in marriage by Father Tretrak, of St. Michael's Greek Catholic church in Sheffield.

The bride wore a suit of champagne colored satin, complemented with brown accessories, and had a corsage of pink carnations. Her only attendant, Mrs. John Hickey, Jr., was attired in a green wool dress, with which she wore matching accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

Mr. Hickey was best man for Mr. Bleech.

After the ceremony, the couple left for a short wedding trip.

The bride was graduated from Warren High School in the Class of 1944 and is employed at the New Process Company.

Mr. Bleech also attended Warren High School, graduating in 1943, and is engaged in the grocery business.

Warren Field And Stream Club Holds Annual Meeting

J. Clifford Johnson was reelected president of the Warren Field and Stream Club at an annual meeting of the sportsmen last night in the Irvinedale school, Jackson street extension.

Other officers chosen included Howard Lauffenberg, first vice president; John Schuler, second vice president; Len Donaldson, secretary; Curt Sasserson, treasurer; F. Mac Geer, representative to the County Council; and Charles Lane, alternate representative.

Elected as directors were Carl Bengtson, Warren Chiles, Jim Cooper, Don Curtis, Lee Dunn, Don Finley, August Gantz, Lothar Hamilton, Bob Haslet, George Irwin, Cliff Jones, Lyle Krapp, Howard Landers, M. Ed Larsen, Dick Lauffenberg, Guy McKinley, Bob Morrison, Joe Musante, Carl Nelson, J. S. Pees, Frank Reese, Fritz Rieder, Bill Samuelson, Harry Schmidt, Frank Smith, John H. Stewart, D. J. Sowers, Don Tarr, Steve Trutt and Cecil Wmms.

Al Koohey and Myron Jewell were appointed auditors.

Club members voted to continue paying a club bounty of four dollars on Great Horned Owls and two dollars on Great Horned Owl fledglings through Oct. 31, 1949. They also voted to give all possible support to Warren Radio Station WVAE in its effort to secure permission from the FCC for a round the clock broadcasting license.

Vestrymen Selected For 1949 At Parish Meeting

The annual meeting of Trinity Memorial parish was held in the parish house, preceded by a tureen supper. The evening meal, organized and under the direction of W. C. Beck's Bible Class, was one of the most successful held in some time.

Vestrymen elected for the ensuing year were J. H. Alexander, senior warden; Chester S. Allen, Rex Biekarck, D. E. Conaway, W. T. Davidson, S. G. Davis, H. R. Lewis, J. W. A. Luce, H. B. Meacham, H. M. Stevenson, R. H. Truster.

Mrs. R. C. Dawson was nominated representative of the parish on the committee on emergency relief.

Reports of various organizations in the church showed evidence of an increased interest in the parish as well as a substantial growth in membership. This was particularly true in the church school, where Rex Biekarck, superintendent reported continued growth and interest and the urgent need for additional classroom space. He also reported on the latest methods of teaching utilized in the church school to make it one of the most up-to-date schools in the Episcopal Church.

S. G. Davis, secretary of the parish meeting, read the minutes of the preceding meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Erick Allen, Mr. and Mrs. David Abernethy were appointed tellers by the Rector for the election of the senior warden and vestrymen.

The report of the Altar Guild was read by the president of that organization, Mrs. Olga Keller, for Mrs. H. P. Maurer, secretary.

An interesting report on property and investments was read by J. H. Alexander, senior warden. The report of the Bivvy-Member-Canvass was given by the junior warden, C. S. Allen, showing 73 men in the parish participated in the recent campaign, and a substantial increase in giving was reported during this year.

The report of the treasurer, H. B. Meacham, indicated that $5762.13, or approximately 1/3 of the budget, went to benevolences outside of the local parish. In addition to this, the church school contributed $1,200 to missionary work outside the parish.

The report on the emergency relief fund was read by Mrs. E. G. Dawson in the absence of the treasurer, E. H. Ley. A splendid report on the work of the Bishop's Men, a Diocesan organization, was given by R. G. Smith, who is one of the regional directors of this organization. W. E. Rice is chairman of the Bishop's Men in this parish.

The church school report was given by Superintendent Rex Biekarck, after which the rector spoke of the work of the Guild of the Christ Child, an organization of pre-school children under the direction of Mrs. C. P. Eddis. Other reports were given by Mrs. Mabel Crumppenshaw, for the Lindsey Bible Class; Mrs. Roy Heermans, for the Rockwell Bible Class; Mrs. Ed Hagberg, for Trinity Service League; Mrs. H. L. VanBois, for the Woman's Auxiliary.

The rector spoke briefly about the young people's activities in PAK and about the film library which has been established in the parish for the benefit of all churches in this area. He reported that this is a non-profit organization, that 40 religious films are now available in the library, and that all profit has been reinvested in the purchase of new films and film equipment. During the past year over $1,000 worth of films have been added to the library.

The meeting closed with benediction by the rector.

5 doctors prove this plan breaks the laxative habit

If you take laxatives regularly—here's how you can stop!

Because New York doctors now have proved you may break the laxative habit. And establish your natural powers of regularity. Eighty-three per cent of the cases tested did it. So can you.

Stop taking whatever you now take. Instead, Every night for one week take 2 Carter's Pills. Second week—one each night. Third week—one every other night.

Every day: drink eight glasses of water; set a definite time for regularity.

Five New proved this plan can break the laxative habit. How can a laxative break the laxative habit? Because Carter's Pills "unlock" the lower digestive tract and from then on let it make use of its own natural powers.

Break the laxative habit... with Carter's Pills... and be regular naturally.

When worry, overeating, overwork make you irregular temporarily—take Carter's Pills temporarily. And never get the laxative habit.

Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore for 10¢ today. You'll be grateful the rest of your life.

(From Page One)

The killing yesterday of Attorney Earl Pruet in his skyscraper office remained a mystery. Pruet was a former United States district attorney.

No arrest had been made.

Pruet died with two bullets in his back a few moments after an unknown elderly man fired four shots at him in the law office firm on the 11th floor of the 32-story First National Building in downtown Oklahoma City late yesterday.

The gunman then sauntered down the hall, took an elevator and disappeared.

Market Quotations

New York, Jan. 12—(P)—An early rise in higher price levels had only scant success in the stock market today. Fractional gains were widely distributed at the opening. Almost immediately, though, demand faded away and gains were shaded. A few issues slipped into minus territory. Several large blocks of stock changed hands but on the whole trading was quiet, with the ticker tape frequently at a full stop.

GERTRUDE A. MAINWARING

Mrs. Gertrude A. Mainwaring, wife of David R. Mainwaring, of 4 Van Etten avenue, Sheffield, died in Warren General Hospital this morning. She had been ill for the past month.

Mrs. Mainwaring was born in Macook, Butler County, on May 8, 1877, and had resided in Sheffield for 60 years. She was a member of the Sheffield Methodist church and its women's organizations.

In addition to her husband, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Lois Lewis of Sheffield and two grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Borden funeral home in Sheffield, where the services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. E. D. Hulse, pastor of the Sheffield Methodist church, officiating.

Burial will be made in the Sheffield cemetery.

CHARLES CARLSON

The body will be removed to the Borden funeral home in Sheffield. Funeral services will be arranged later.

WILLIAM CAMP

Sheffield, Jan. 12—Funeral services for William Camp, 53 Mill street, were conducted from the family home at 3:15 p. m. Sunday, with the Rev. D. Hulse, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. Interment was made in the Evergreen cemetery, Union City, with the following acting as pallbearers: Karl Barr, Lewis Jones, Dean Camp, Elmer Slack, William Wiedner, and Kenneth Baker.

BERT L. GROSS

Bert L. Gross, lifelong resident of this vicinity, died at 30 a. m. Tuesday at 500 Market street, having been in failing health for some time. He was born on Yankee Bush on March 5, 1878, and in recent years had been employed by the Dahlstrom Metallic Door Company in Jamestown, working there until he was taken seriously ill.

His widow, Mrs. Mabel, leaves one son, Byron M. Gross, and a sister, Mrs. John Nelson, both of Warren.

Removal has been made to the Lutz Funeral Home, where friends will be received and from where services will be held at two o'clock Thursday afternoon. Rev. Wayne Furman, pastor of First Methodist church, will officiate. Interment will be made in Oakland cemetery.

Kline Appeal To Be Argued In High Court

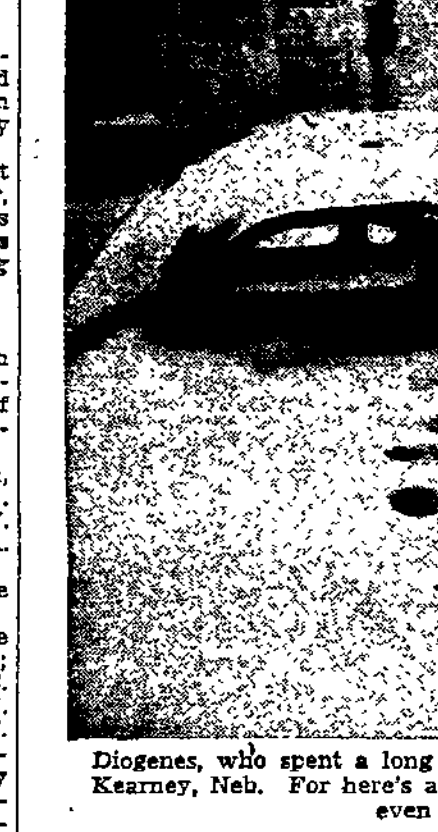

(From Page One)

The Superior Court erred in its judgment in authorizing a new trial. The Supreme Court informed Kornreich today that it has granted the petition, and that the appeal from the Warren County Court conviction will now be argued before the high court at a date to be determined later.

Judge Wade said it is very unusual for the Supreme Court to authorize such action in cases of this type.

Kline drew a sentence of 7½ to 15 years in Western Penitentiary when he appeared before Judge Wade following his conviction in a jury trial.

Germany. Under surveillance for some time while his case was being investigated, he has now been picked up by American occupation forces. The department plans to land.

There are about a score of still-continuing investigations into alleged treasonous broadcasting for the enemy by Americans during the war.

To date, 24 persons have been indicted for treason to the U. S. in World War II—12 of them for enemy propaganda broadcasts.

From these indictments, 14 convictions have been obtained. Two of the accused persons died in Germany, prior to arrests; three cases were dropped for lack of evidence, and others await trial.

One defendant, Ezra Pound, the one-time noted poet, alleged to have broadcast for the Italian government, is in a mental hospital here following a federal court finding that he was incompetent to stand trial.

PLEAS ENTERED

Charles Halliwell and Lloyd Persinger, charged by city police with burglary and larceny at the Segal junk yard, yesterday entered pleas of guilty before Justice Tracy M. Greenlund. They were remanded to jail to await the next term of Quarter Sessions court.

Frank Cardone, also arraigned on the same charge, entered a plea of innocent and waived a hearing before a Justice, and Cardone was also remanded to the county jail.

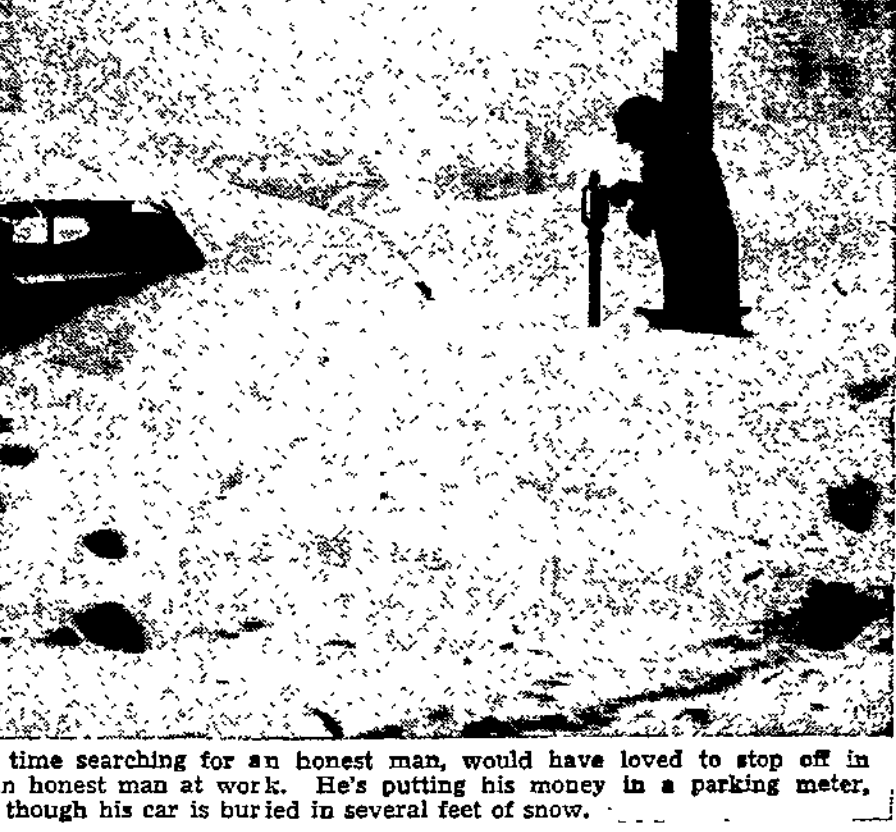

FIGHTS EXTRADITION

Ward Williams, 40, of Ellington, N. Y., has refused to waive extradition to Warren where he was indicted by the November Grand Jury on a charge of larceny of an automobile. Williams action is the first refusal to be extradited to develop in Chautauque court, New York, in five years. He is being held on bail pending outcome of extradition proceedings initiated by Warren County District Attorney M. A. Kornreich.

REPORT ON VFW FUND

A report of activities of the VFW Children's Fund was made yesterday by Eddie Sullivan, president of the fund. The fund was set up several months ago for the purpose of providing emergency aid and moral and spiritual encouragement of deserving children of Warren county. To date, Mr. Sullivan stated, the fund has provided assistance for five dental cases, two hernia cases, given food to aid one destitute family, and currently is providing milk for needy boys and girls whom something a little more than mere food and clothing means the difference between becoming good citizens or unhappy delinquents.

Video Networks On Full Programs

All that's left of this bridge, which once spanned the canal at Karlsplatz, in Berlin, Germany, is one iron girder. The small bridge was destroyed by the retreating German army in 1945. But the Germans, even old women, like the one being helped down, still use the precarious crossing. (Photo by NEA-Arme staff correspondent Joe Schuppe.)

New York, Jan. 12—(P)—Tele-vision's new electronic highway stretching from the Atlantic to the Mississippi became a crowded thoroughfare today as the network took it over for regular commercial programs.

The 2,100-mile "highway" went into operation as a single network covering an area with one-fourth the nation's population with the opening of a $12,500,000 co-axial cable between Philadelphia and Cleveland.

This link, opened last night with an elaborate ceremony, connected the separate east coast and mid-west television hookups of the Bell system. The enlarged network serves 14 cities with 32 stations—more than half the total now in operation. Three other cities have access to the hookup.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 12—(P)—This city which pioneered radio broadcasting had a "window on the world" today as its first television station—WDTV—went into operation.

An enthusiastic crowd of 3,500 was on hand at Syria Mosque last night for the TV debut. Pittsburgh is a link in the new television network extending halfway across the nation from Boston to St. Louis. Reception was termed "very good."

Red-Hot Warren Dragons Swamp Sheffield Wolverines, 69 to 24

The red-hot Warren High Dragons, collecting field goals at a clip from all over the court, steamrolled the Sheffield Wolverines 69 to 24, in a non-league basketball tilt in Beatty gym last night. The scrap marked the second game in a row in which the Massachussetts topped the 60-points-per-game mark, their tilt last Friday at Titusville having ended 61 to 33 in favor of the Blue and White. Warren's 45-point margin of victory in last night's contest was the entire number of points collected by the Dragons in their first meeting this season with the Wolverines. The squad was led by the Dragons and Ralph Christensen, who paced the team with 14 points. Warren's 45-point margin of victory in last night's contest was the entire number of points collected by the Dragons in their first meeting this season with the Wolverines. The squad was led by the Dragons and Ralph Christensen, who paced the team with 14 points.

The five starters were back in the fray for most of the third stanza and succeeded in raising the score to 46-13 before Coach Joe Massa started experimenting with various combinations of the Big 5 and the Reserves.

To the credit of both teams, the game was played without any of the rough-housing that marked the first encounter between the squads on the postage-stamp court at Sheffield. No players from either side exceeded the personal foul limit, and the officials had to call only 12 penalties against the Dragons and 11 against the Wolverines.

Dragonettes Thump Sheffield Reserves

Rebounding from the setback handed them by the Titusville Seconds last Friday night, Warren High Dragonettes drubbed the Sheffield JaVeEs, 46-14, in a return match at Beatty Gym last night.

The Dragonettes led their opponents all the way, gaining a 12-0 lead well in the first quarter before Center sunk a foul shot to give Sheffield its first point.

Gail Elmer, Warren forward, took scoring honors with eight points. Paul Shattuck, Warren, and Pelligrino, Sheffield, followed with seven units each.

Wooster Arranging For Tourney Jaunt

Harry Wooster, secretary of the Warren Bowling Association, is lining up a group of Warren bowlers to take part in the second annual Commodore Singles Tenspin Classic to be held at the Commodore alleys in Erie over four weekends, April 2 through April 24.

The tourney is open to bowlers with 185 averages or under, with top prize being $1,000. Six games will be bowled across 12 lanes.

Wooster said that if enough bowlers sign up, arrangements will be made to reserve a tourney date so the local delegation can bowl together. Entries close March 28. In last year's tournament, Sam Cosmano, of Warren, finished in the money, getting $18.25 for his 1143 score.

Murder Gets Allowed
BY ROBERT SIDNEY BOWEN

MY sidewalk debate ended in a compromise. I took a cab and went to the office. If I was lucky there might be something there connected with the couple of phone calls I'd made to Washington, D. C. At that point in the jigsaw puzzle I needed a break. A great big break. Either one of them, or both of them, could give me that break. At least I thought they could. And so I had all my fingers mentally crossed when I unlocked my office door and pushed it open.

The first thing I saw was the yellow Western Union envelope on the floor at my feet. It had been slipped through the mail slot in the door. I picked it up quickly and saw at once that it was dated Washington, D. C. I read the wire, swore out loud, and read it again. It said:

Before asking Paula what would you do first? Ted Luck!

That is exactly what the wire said, and after reading it six times I was still spinning out of control. I knew that it wasn't any gag.

And so I stared at the wire some more. I tried to figure it was in some sort of code. But after ten minutes of getting nowhere I gave that up. Yet something had to be there. If I could only make sense out of it.

And then, suddenly, when the last thread of the Barnes' sanity was about to snap, the tiny light came on way in back of my brain. It grew and grew like the headlight of an on-rushing locomotive and then blew up silently as I let out a happy yell, and smacked a hand palm first on the desk.

"Eureka!" was what came out of my mouth. "Get it, so help me. You're a louse, Ted, to make me sweat, but I love you!"

After those few words I calmed down and did some more thinking. A great big hunk of the jigsaw puzzle was in place to stay. But there was another big piece that should fit right alongside of it. I mean, the piece in the form of that sheet of paper covered with Herbert Varney signatures I'd found in Cardeur's waste paper basket.

I studied the paper filled with the same signature. More than over I was positive that it was the results of efforts to improve a signature until the forgery and the original would match. Sure, I figured that out, but it didn't tell me anything. If only I'd found attempts to practice René DeFoe's signature, then maybe . . .

A SUDDEN blinding thought crowded out all the others. I sat there stunned for a moment, and then I felt very foolish for not having come up with that thought hours before. A look at my desk clock told me I had just eight minutes before the bank where René DeFoe had opened his fifty thousand dollar account would close for the day. I used up two of those eight minutes getting out of the office and taking the elevator down. Luck was with me, because somebody was just paying off a cab as I dashed out onto the sidewalk. I grabbed it, and waved a five-dollar bill in front of the driver's face. He earned the five with a couple of minutes to spare.

The safety deposit vaults were below ground. I hurried down the stairs and over to the grill-doors. The guard looked at me and smiled politely.

"Herbert Varney," I told him. He nodded, repeated the name, and shoved a signature card under the grill-shelf for me to sign. Then he pulled open the fire card cabinet drawer, and started thumbing through it. I made as though to pick up the pen. I did it very slowly. And just as slowly I dipped it in the ink well. By then the guard had stopped thumbing through the cards. He had one card half pulled out. He looked at it. Then he looked at me, and smiled slowly left his face, and his features began to harden. I put down the pen, snapped my fingers, and started fishing through my pockets.

"Something wrong, Mister?" The guard's voice was like ice.

Chapter 23

WHEN I reached the sidewalk I also reached the decision that, murder or not, I had to eat. So I went up a couple of blocks, one over eastward, and found a little place where the food was good, and the customers the strong silent type.

When I came out it was something after four o'clock. The inner Barnes was quite content. And, as a matter of fact, the mental Barnes was feeling pretty good, too, thank you. I had done me an awful lot of serious thinking, and some guessing. And the result was that I felt sure that not many more pieces were needed to be fitted into place to give me the whole picture. Anyway, it seemed that way to me, as I popped into a cigar store and called Paula's apartment.

No answer. I look at my watch. Four-thirty. No use, now, calling the couple of places where I might have found her earlier. My best bet was the Biltmore Cocktail Lounge. Dropping in there around five was a daily custom of ours, whether together or alone.

I had no sooner walked under the clock than I saw her. Sitting right at our usual table, and with . . . guess who? None other than Gordon Parrish!

I started threading through the tables toward them.

Paula saw me first, and smiled brightly. Relief, or spite, I didn't know.

"Hello, darling!" she said. "You're early, too. Did you have a nice trip?"

I didn't even look at Parrish. Not yet. I grinned, bent over and kissed Paula.

"A lovely trip, lovely," I said. "You should have been along. Hello, Parrish. Eulich all right, now?"

"Yes, quite all right. Mr. Barnes," he said, and hitched over a little to make more room for me. "And I would like to say that he got what he deserved. I apologize again."

"Forget it," I said, and tried to make it good-natured. "He's just the impulsive type, I guess. Besides, who am I to blame you for having me shadowed? Certainly not I. You had paid out money, and were entitled to protect your investment in whatever way you thought best. Right?"

He knew that I was actually spitting in his eye, but he couldn't do a single thing about it other than to keep smiling, and take it.

"Well, that's a very nice way of putting it, sir," he said. Then, with a glance Paula's way, he said, "As a matter of fact, Mr. Barnes, that is the reason you find me in such charming company. I mean, I have been trying to find you ever since you left in order to explain more fully about Frank's shock at the news, so that you would not continue to be offended by so disgraceful an episode."

"I'm never in here until this time any afternoon," I said. "I'm usually at my office or my apartment."

"But, Mr. Barnes," he got out, as his face began to harden. "He's an underdone steak; one that had been run over by a tank. I phoned both your office, and then your apartment, and . . ."

Paula's heel dug into my shin as she spoke.

"And then he called me, Gerry," she said. "Lord knows I didn't know where you were. It's been a long time since you left to make a visit yesterday noon, you know! So I told Mr. Parrish you usually dropped in here around five. And he was nice enough to invite me to join him and wait."

"Well, all's well with the world," I said in my brightest voice. "Very much all well, for me."

Parrish almost slid off his chair, he leaned forward so quickly.

"You mean, Mr. Barnes . . . ? You mean you've found the murderer?"

"Which murderer?" I asked.

"Why . . . why, both!" he managed to know who killed René DeFoe, and also Maurice Cardeur."

I continued to give him the blank face. Then I shook my head slowly.

"No, I don't," I said. "That's for the police. Right now I'm quite content to know why. The motive, to be technical."

IF MY remark startled Parrish, any he was clever enough to catch on. I couldn't tell. As a matter of fact, though, I could only watch him for a couple of split seconds. Paula shot out a hand, gripped mine, and I was forced to give her my attention. Her eyes were big and wide.

"You know why René DeFoe, and this Maurice Cardeur, were murdered, Gerry?" she exclaimed. "Tell me."

I frowned and shook my head. "The things you ask in public," I countered. Then with a gesture, I asked, "What do you think I've been doing in the last thirty hours or so?"

"That was a mistake, and I know it! I couldn't tell. As a matter of fact, Paula stiffened and her eyes became very dangerous.

"That is what I would like to know most of all," she snapped. "I'll bet it wasn't all work, and no play!"

That would get us nowhere, except in each other's hair, so I simply looked hurt and turned to Parrish.

"Incidentally, I'm glad you did find me," I said. "Truth of the matter is I called your place a couple of times, but there was no answer. There's a couple of things I want to ask you."

He twisted his ugly face into a smile, but his eyes were as sharp as a pistol shot.

"I only hope I can answer them, Mr. Barnes," he said.

I held off while Nick set down their raffle.

"Counting out DeFoe," I finally said, who would you say was murdered at Cardeur to want to kill him?"

The first part of the answer was a dry chuckle, and a little helpless shake of his head.

"I told you before, in this very place," he said with a wave at the lounge, "that we of the Underground had hundreds of enemies. And many of them are still our enemies today. We . . ."

"Yes, I remember," I cut in, and watched him closely. "But I understand you had very few secrets from each other. Maybe you can narrow down the field to two or three, eh?"
